One study shows that Americans prefer to answer with a brief “Yes” “No” “Sure”, or the very popular “Yeah” rather than with a longer reply. But brief replies do not mean Americans are impolite or unfriendly to some extent. Very often, Americans are in a hurry and may greet you with a single word “Hi”, indeed; this is a greeting you will hear again and again during your stay in the United States. It is used by everyone, regardless of rank, age or occupations. However, those who are accustomed to longer greetings may require a little more time before they feel comfortable with American simple talks.

Americans sometimes use plain talks when they are uncomfortable. If people praise them or thank them in an especially polite way, they may become uncomfortable and not know what to say in reply. They don't want to be impolite or rude; you can be sure that they like what is said about them. Except for certain holidays, such as Christmas, Americans don't usually give gifts. Thus, you will find Americans embarrassed as they accept gifts, especially if they have nothing to give in return. They are generally a warm but informal people.

26. The fact that Americans like shorter answers tells us _____.
- A. they reply very quickly in a hurry
 B. they choose words too carefully
 C. they like replying briefly
 D. they want to be as polite as they can
27. Those who like using beautiful or formal words _____.
- A. need more time to get used to American simple greetings
 B. need no time to get familiar with American greetings
 C. do not very much like American way of greeting
 D. think Americans are not polite
28. Which of the following is NOT true?
- A. Americans often answer with the words like “Sure” “Yeah”.
 B. Americans are not impolite with brief replies.
 C. Americans of high rank must use formal words in greeting.
 D. Americans are a warm but informal people.

29. The Americans like others' praise but if in a polite way _____.
- A. they don't know what to say in reply
 B. they feel somewhat uneasy
 C. they don't want to reply
 D. both A and B

30. The passage indicates that _____.
- A. Americans exchange gifts the first time they meet
 B. Americans seldom give gifts except for some holidays
 C. Americans often bring some gifts to their friends
 D. Americans only want to get gifts from others

B

There is a town near Suzhou. It is very interesting and beautiful. This is Luxiang, an old town. Luxiang was built in the Southern Song Dynasty (1127—1279). There were many famous people living in the town at that time.

There are around 30 old buildings of Ming and Qing (1644—1912) dynasties now. People live a simple life. Six lanes (巷) in the town go to Taihu Lake.

Luxiang looks more beautiful in spring, with many tea trees and fruit gardens. This place is famous for the tea called Biluochun.

The Egyptian pyramids were built around 2560 B. C. The largest one of them is the Great Pyramid of Khufu. The King, Khufu, built it as his tomb.

The Great Pyramid was considered a unique building in the 19th century A. D. At that time, it was still the tallest in the world. According to scientific research, Khufu ordered his men to build it stone by stone. The biggest stone weighs 15 tons, and each stone was fixed so well.

The Great Pyramid has four sides and each side is 230. 4 meters long and 146. 5 meters high. At that time, there were no modern machines or equipment, so how did the ancient Egyptians build it? To this day, it is still a mystery.

31. Many famous people were living in Luxiang _____.
- A. from 1127 to 1279 B. from 1644 to 1912

Toothpaste (牙膏) does more than just keep our teeth bright and white. It can be used wisely in many other ways. Here are some useful tips that can save us time and money. If you follow them, you will have a fresh smell of using toothpaste!

Clean a Dirty Mirror

If you want to clean a dirty bathroom mirror, try to put a bit of toothpaste on the mirror and wipe it dry. The glass can be cleaned up beautifully. And doing this can also stop the mirror from fogging. Then you can still see yourself in the mirror after taking a shower.

Remove the Unpleasant Food Smell

Have some bad food smell, like the smell of onions or fish, on your hands? You can remove it by washing your hands with toothpaste. You'll be fresh-smelling in no time.

Make Your Sports Shoes Whiter

This time, clean your sports shoes by yourself, not by your mother. Wipe some toothpaste around your shoes and then clean it with a wet cloth. See? Your shoes are white as new!

阅读下列短文, 从每题所给的 A、B、C、D 四个选项中, 选出最佳选项, 并将该选项的字母填在横线上。

My father woke up my brother and me early one summer morning when I was fourteen and said, "Get up! You're going with me to cut the grass in the garden."

From sun-up to sun-down, my father, my brother and I worked in the garden. By the end of the day, my brother and I were too tired to say a word but we were excited. This was the first time that we had helped our father work. I got $6 for my work that day, and my brother got $2 more.

Then we worked almost every Saturday. One day, my father found some grass I had missed and said, "Cut the grass! Don't make me have to tell you to do it again." I knew he was telling me the importance of doing a job well the first time. It really helped me a lot.

After two years, my father told me I was old enough to cut the grass by myself. Every Saturday during my last two years of high school, I woke up early in the morning to work in the garden. Looking after the garden was neither exciting nor high-paying, but I didn't care.

My father once said, "If you're only thinking about money, maybe you won't think about how to do the job better."

I have done many jobs for my family. In every job, from cutting the grass to washing the clothes, I've learned much. I've learned something that helps me in my next job.

26. How much did the writer get after he worked in the garden for the first time?
A. 2 dollars.
B. 4 dollars.
C. 6 dollars.
D. 8 dollars.

27. What does the underlined word "it" refer to in the third paragraph?
A. Cleaning the house.
B. Getting up early.
C. Cutting the grass.
D. Looking after a garden.

28. How often did the writer cut the grass during his last two years of high school?
A. Every morning.
B. Every Saturday.
C. Every afternoon.
D. Every Sunday.

29. What did the writer think of his father's advice?
A. Funny.
B. Helpful.
C. Interesting.
D. Careless.

30. What is the main idea of the text?
- A. The importance of doing a job well.
 - B. The importance of washing clothes.
 - C. The importance of working in a garden.
 - D. The importance of getting paid.

Kaitlin Riffel's dream to end poverty (贫困) started when she was visiting her father, who worked for the homeless.

"I never realized there were people in the world who didn't have a home or food before," said Kaitlin, who is now sixteen. "I knew there was something I had to do about that."

At eight, she started raising money to build a playground. "It took me two years," Kaitlin said. "We started small. We wanted to do something to make a difference."

In 2014, when Kaitlin was thirteen, she visited Central America, and saw people going hungry and families living in house made of cardboard. That year, she set Kids on a Mission, which has helped hundreds of people there.

"The rooms were smaller than my bedroom, but there would be eight people living in each one," Kaitlin said. "We also got to see the dirty rivers that those people were drinking out of."

Providing clean drinking water, food and clothes for people living in poverty is now an important task for Kids on a Mission. "This young lady is changing the hearts of people, and also changing the world," said the headmaster of Kaitlin's school.

31. The job of Kaitlin's father was to _____.
- A. sell foods
 - B. build playgrounds
 - C. visit schools
 - D. help homeless people

 - C. Father's Duty in the Family
 - D. Girl's Dream to End Poverty

A doctor entered the hospital hurriedly after being called in for an important surgery (外科手术). He found the boy's father waiting worriedly.

On seeing him, the father cried out, "Why did you take all this time to come? Don't you know that my son is in danger? Don't you have any sense of duty?"

The doctor said, "I am sorry. I wasn't in the hospital and I came as fast as I could and now I wish you could calm down so that I can do my work quietly."

"Calm down? What if your son was in this room right now? If you son dies while you are waiting for a doctor, what will you do?" said the father angrily. The doctor smiled and replied, "We'll do our best and you should also pray (祈祷) for your son."

The surgery took some time before the doctor went out, saying happily, "Thank goodness! Your son is saved!" And without waiting for the father's reply, he ran away, saying, "If you have any question, ask the nurse."

"Couldn't he wait some minutes so that I can ask about my son's state (状况)?" shouted the father. The nurse answered, tears coming down her face. "His son died yesterday in a road accident. He was at the burial (葬礼) when we called him for your son's surgery. And since he saved your son, he left running to finish his son's burial."

36. What was the boy's father doing when the doctor arrived?
- A. He was looking after the boy.
 - B. He was shouting angrily at the nurse.
 - C. He was waiting worriedly.
