My mother only had one eye. I hated her. I was always angry about it. She cooked dinner for students and teachers. One day at school, my mother saw me and said hello to me. I was so unhappy! How could she do this? I turned back and ran away. The next day at school one of my classmates said, "Hey, your mother only has one eye!"

I didn't know what to say. I wished my mother to just get away. I said to her at home, "If you're only going to make others laugh at me, why don't you just get away?" She didn't say a word.

Many years later, I had my family in another city. Then one day, my mother came to visit me. When she stood at the door, my children laughed at her. I shouted, "GET AWAY! NOW!" "Oh, I'm so sorry. I have the wrong address."

A few years later, she died. Somebody gave me a letter from my mother. It read:
My dearest son,

I think of you all the time. I am sorry that I should not go to your house and... You see, when you were very young, you lost your eye in a car accident. As a mother, I gave you mine. I am glad you can see a whole world with that eye.

Knowing how to stay safe at home is just as important as knowing the family rules. Again, this is something you need to talk over with your mom, dad or both of them. Go over safety rules for the kitchen if you do any cooking while you're home alone. It's a good idea to practice what you would do in a real emergency, just in case something terrible happens.

Kids who are home alone might worry that someone could break into the house and hurt them. The good news is that this is very unlikely. But keeping the doors and windows locked will help you stay safe.

Decide with your mom or dad what to do if the phone rings or someone knocks at the door. It's never a good idea to tell someone that you're home by yourself. And when you get home and find the door is open or a window is broken, don't even go inside. Instead, go to a neighbor you trust and ask for help.

Other kinds of emergencies could come up, too, like a fire, or you or a brother might get sick or hurt. Just in case, you'll want to know:

- how to dial 911
- your address and phone number
- the name, address and phone number of the place where your mom or dad works
- the name, phone number, and address of a trusted neighbor

41. Which is true according to the first paragraph?

- A. Knowing how to stay safe at home is more important than knowing the family rules.
B. Knowing how to stay safe at home is less important than knowing the family rules.
C. Knowing the family rules is important. Knowing how to stay safe at home is important, too.

D. Knowing how to stay safe at home is not so important as knowing the family rules.

42. Kids who are home alone might be _____ that someone could break into the house and hurt them.

- A. excited
- B. worried
- C. surprised
- D. bored

- A. 可能发生的
- B. 不太可能发生的
- C. 从不发生的
- D. 经常发生的

44. What should you do when you get home and find the door is open or a window is broken?

- A. Go inside.
- B. Go to a neighbor you trust.
- C. Ask for help.
- D. Both B and C.

45. What's the main idea of the article?

- A. Kids should obey family rules.
- B. How to stay safe when kids are home alone.
- C. Kids should ask for help.
- D. Kids should avoid emergencies.

When you are in Australia or England, you must be very careful in the streets because the traffic goes on the left. Before you cross the street, you must pay attention to the right first and then the left.

If the traffic lights are red, the traffic must stop. Then the people on foot can cross the road. If the lights are green, the traffic can shuttle(穿梭) along the street and people on foot mustn't cross.

In the morning and in the evening when people go to or come back from work, the streets are very busy. The traffic is the most dangerous then.

When you drive a car in England, you have to be careful, too. You must always remember the traffic moves on the left, so you must be careful. Have a look first or you'll go the wrong way.

In many English cities, there are big buses with two floors. You can sit on the second floor, where you can see the city very well. That'll be very interesting.

When I was in medical college, I went camping with some of my friends. Since the season was summer, we chose to go to the seaside. After arriving there, we rented a room and left our luggage there. We finished lunch and then decided to rent a boat because the sea and the weather were beautiful.

We started to row, but about one mile out, the weather suddenly changed. Although the weather was not good, we didn't want to quit. But finally my friend and I agreed that we should go back. We tried to change the boat's direction, but as soon as we changed it, the oarlock(桨架) broke. Therefore, we were unable to turn back. We had to wait for help because we couldn't do anything.

After seeing the change of weather, we shouldn't have continued to row, but it was too late. We regretted it. The sea changed a lot, the waves got very high and the boat began to shake like a cradle(摇篮). One of my friends started to cry. Another started to vomit. Three hours passed, but nobody came to help us. We could just pray.

Thankfully, after five long hours of waiting, two big boats came to rescue us and we escaped. If they hadn't come to get us, we would have crossed the border between Türkiye and Greece because the border was very close.

This story is the most exciting story of my life because I could have died, but luck was with us and we escaped.

Although buses tend to be slower than the subway for traveling around New York City, there are many reasons to use the bus while visiting New York City:

They tend to be in service areas of Manhattan that are not located close to subway lines. Buses offer the added advantage of being able to see various areas of Manhattan while you ride.

How much does the bus cost?

Fare is $2.25 and can be paid with a MetroCard or coins (no dollar bills, no pennies).

A free transfer to another bus or the subway within 2 hours is available if you pay with a MetroCard.

If you pay cash you can ask for a transfer, but it is only good for transferring to another bus (not to the subway) within 2 hours.

Getting on and off the bus

You must wait for buses at designated (指定的) bus stops.

As you see the bus approaching your stop, you can put your arm out to indicate to the driver that you want to board the bus.

Enter the bus through the front doors and pay your fare.

Take a seat or move toward the back of the bus to make room for other people boarding the bus.

To request a stop: Pull the cord or press the black band near the windows. A "Stop Requested" light will be on immediately at the front of the bus.
